If so then this meeting is for you!

The Dundee & Tayside Generations Working Together (GWT) intergenerational network is designed to create networking opportunities for organisations and groups who would like to be kept up to date with what's happening in the local area along with opportunities to link with other key partners in delivering current and future intergenerational activities. In addition you will hear about what GWT is planning to do nationally and how you can have an input in to our policies and strategies.

The programme for the above day includes Jacqueline Laird speaking about her intergenerational project which created a video documenting experiences of growing up in Dundee. There will be a discussion around the GWT publication, 'Guidelines: bringing together local authorities and intergenerational practice in a Scottish policy context'. The Guidelines are a very useful tool when applying for funding and looking at what the outcomes are for older people, younger people and the community. There will be an update from GWT, funding info and an opportunity to network.
