SOUTH AYRSHIRE COUNCIL BOOST TO HELP NEW BUSINESSES WITH AMBITION

New or start-up businesses across South Ayrshire can still take advantage of fantastic modern office accommodation, hands-on business support and mentoring – and even grant funding – thanks to South Ayrshire Council's AMBITION enterprise and employment programme.

The intensive support is part of the AMBITION – a £1.5 million, four-part enterprise programme to encourage start-ups, business growth, employment and social enterprise.

The programme is delivered from three incubator units at Heathfield in Ayr and at Girvan and Maybole – each providing the ideal location to develop and grow a new business, with additional meeting, conference and hot-desking facilities available.

Complementing the practical support the incubator units offer a 'wraparound' package of mentoring, access to expertise and advice, and hands-on support to ensure businesses get the best possible start and really get the chance to grow.

For further information about the incubator units or any other aspect of the AMBITION programme, call 01292 616265 or visit: www.ambitionprogramme.co.uk

SCOTCH WHISKY ACTION FUND

SWAF will distribute £100K per annum over the next 5 years to groups and organisations that wish to reduce the impact of alcohol-related harm in Scotland's communities. They are looking to support and develop a range of projects/initiatives which deliver targeted interventions designed to tackle alcohol-related harms across three themes:

- Young people (aged under 18);
- Families
- Communities

The fund recognises that the misuse of alcohol through excessive or inappropriate consumption can have implications for health and a range of social problems, including anti-social behaviour, accidents, violence, family break-down, problems with money and work, which can impact on individuals, families and communities.

The Fund would particularly welcome applications from new/innovative or pilot initiatives which aim to test new approaches within these themes and which will offer learning that others can use. Applications from existing projects which can demonstrate success in reducing harm are also welcome.

There are two levels of award:

1. Up to £10,000

Awards made under this category could fund new initiatives and test out innovative approaches designed to reduce alcohol-related harm. Awards could also be used to fund existing smaller scale projects that are seeking to expand or develop their services. Applications for innovative/pilot projects will be capped at a maximum grant award of £10,000 but will have the opportunity to apply for further funding if you can evidence that you have achieved the outcomes set for the pilot phase of your project.

2. £10,000 – £25,000

Awards made under this category could fund projects that are seeking to consolidate and build on emerging, successful practice in relation to the reduction of alcohol-related harm. Awards made under this category will need to be able to provide evidence that the project is needed and that the approach taken has proven to be effective.

Note that statutory bodies are able to apply to this programme, as are large national charitable organisations as there is no limit set on the amount of annual income that an organisation has.

Organisations can seek funding to run:

- Preventative projects that aim to reduce the alcohol-related harm within communities, families, and young people aged 18 and under.
- Projects that aim to educate people and communities about the dangers and consequences of misusing alcohol.
- The development of new, innovative projects designed to reduce alcohol-related harms.
- Pilot projects that will test out new initiatives and ideas designed to promote responsible attitudes to alcohol consumption and prevent alcohol-misuse.
- Projects that promote alternative leisure and lifestyle choices for adults and young people to prevent alcohol-misuse.

Further information and guidance is available to download from the Foundation Scotland website or by contacting Sian Langdon by email at: sian@foundationscotland.org.uk.

Alternatively you can telephone her on 0141 341 4967.

The deadline for the first round of applications is 31 March 2014 with decisions expected in June 2014.
