

Our Impact

Teachers, pupils, retired people and schools make up the world of Intergen. All of them live in local communities where our schools are located. The schools provide a place where they can share time, experiences and knowledge together, have fun and learn something new.

“ I have had an amazing time, because I go to school two afternoons a week and the children flock around me and I have got to know them.”
Lillian - A coordinator

Where else can you get out of the house, not spend money and have a good time?
Brenda - A volunteer

“ It is so much more successful than we ever imagined, the model felt remote but it fits like a glove.”
Mrs. Green - Head teacher

Our year 5 volunteer – she talked about her grandparents – what she remembered. You can't do that with a video - you can watch a film but she is quite different – she volunteered to do that. She comes to school early and she talks to them as they come in and they chat to her – she is part of the school.

Mrs. Redbridge a teacher talking about an Intergenerational

“ He is very interesting he tells us about stars... and all the old money... like the one that was called a bob - it was a nickname.”
Jordan - Pupil

They help us, they help us doing our work, when we are stuck they just come round and help us.
Nicola - Pupil

the Tudor trust

We have to say that without the Tudor Trust we would not be in existence. The Trust has supported our work for a long time. We are not only grateful for their understanding and support of our work but also determined to show them that we can be FINANCIALLY sustainable and we have a business model that will ensure we will be.

Hogan Lovells
Hogan Lovell's are our lawyers. At each step of the way we have been the beneficiaries of their skilled lawyers in making sure our contracts are water-tight and helpful.

Many people helped us this year and we want to say thank you to Anna Varela-Raynes, Cambyse Jafari-Pak, Felipe Varela and Sam French. We now have a great team of creative people working with us. We want to say a special thank you to them. They are:

Our world

This year we have partnerships with 21 schools. They are in the Northwest of England and London. There are 6 secondary schools and 15 primary schools. Our school clusters usually have one secondary and two primary schools in them. We have one cluster that is comprised of three primary schools.

Our schools are located in very different kinds of communities and will continue to be so as we reach for our goal of having 60 schools partnering with us by December 2017.

The launch of From Generation to Generation

In this school year, 2014-2015, we launched our new charity From Generation to Generation.

Our charity's mission is to bring older and younger people together; to have fun, raise their aspirations and learn from each other, sharing the untapped range of skills and knowledge retired people have to offer.

Achieving our mission enables us to create volunteering opportunities and part-time flexible work for older people and build stronger, healthier communities.

We have begun a process of reengineering to ensure the charity is fit for purpose and our business model will enable us to realise our ambition to create sustainable intergenerational programmes in local communities.

Our Programmes:

INTERGEN
What: Brings older and younger people together to learn and have fun, sharing the untapped skills and knowledge they have to offer to each other.

Where: In their neighbourhood schools, secondary and primary.

IN FILMS TOGETHER

What: An intergenerational film festival using contemporary commercial films from all over Europe showing positive images of both young and old citizens.

Where: London, Manchester and Liverpool.

THE UNIVERSITY PROGRAMME
What: A supportive service for universities using older citizens living near the universities to welcome, befriend and mentor overseas students at our universities.

Where: University pilot site, London or North West England.

INTERGEN OUT AND ABOUT

What: New opportunities for older and younger people to learn together outside school.

Where: Museums and allotments.

In this report we focus on the work we have done with our partner neighbourhood schools. We rolled this programme out nationally in 2010 following 10 years of research and development. We showcase its impact and future potential. The infographic on the back of the annual report shows our plans to roll out the programme and the potential for its rollout in England alone.

Please get in touch with us if you are interested in what we do and would like to engage with us in our exciting work.
