

Job Description

Post: Intergenerational Development Officer

Hours: F/T - 35 per week (would consider job share of 2 P/T Officers)

Salary: £26,400

Contract: Fixed term for 2.5 years (with the hope of extending if further funding secured)]

Start date: Monday 30th January 2023

Overview

GWT is the nationally recognised centre of excellence supporting the development and integration of intergenerational work across Scotland. GWT's vision is to live in a Scotland where different generations are more connected, and everyone has the opportunity to build relationships that help to create a fairer society. By intergenerational practice we mean projects, activities, or events where people of different generations who might not otherwise meet each other work together in positive and creative ways.

GWT has secured funding from the National Lottery Community Fund for an exciting new project that aims to embed intergenerational practice across Scotland, England, and Northern Ireland. From January 2023, we will work in partnership with Apples and Honey Nightingale in London and Linking Generations Northern Ireland, with Development Officers in each country working collaboratively to deliver training, promote new quality standards, and recognise Intergenerational Hubs in communities across the UK.

Overview of Post

This role will focus on building partnerships, delivering intergenerational training, creating, and piloting a set of new quality standards, and supporting the recognition of new Intergenerational hubs across three areas of Scotland (areas being considered include Shetland/Orkney, Ayrshire, and Lothians however this could change).

Responsible to: GWT Chief Executive Officer

Responsible for:

1. Providing support and delivering training to communities and organisations across three areas (described above) to develop sustainable intergenerational activities
2. Working collaboratively to create, pilot and evaluate new resources and quality standards for intergenerational practice
3. Working collaboratively to create, pilot and evaluate a recognition process for intergenerational hubs
4. Providing administrative and logistical support to the partnership and advisory group

Responsibilities:1. Providing support and training for communities and organisations interested in pursuing intergenerational activities.

This will include activities such as:

- Building relationships with individuals, practitioners, and communities within the three identified areas exploring opportunities for intergenerational activities
- Planning and facilitating 3 - 4 local intergenerational networks across the agreed areas
- Developing resources in collaboration with partners and delivering training
- Identifying and supporting 10 projects in Scotland to create intergenerational projects programmes/hubs
- Acting as a key liaison for participants involved in the programme

2. Working collaboratively to create, pilot and evaluate new resources and quality standards for intergenerational practice.

This will include activities such as:

- Working collaboratively with partners (England & Northern Ireland) as well as the Advisory Group to establish new quality standards
- Coordinating community engagement and feedback around quality standards from participants in Scotland
- Assisting in the dissemination of these new quality standards through established networks and creating new linkages
- Supporting projects and communities to test pilot the standards
- Evaluation and monitoring of all projects testing standards

3. Working collaboratively to create, pilot and evaluate a recognition process for intergenerational hubs

This will include activities such as:

- Assisting the advisory group and partners to design and agree the application process for the recognition of Intergenerational Hubs within communities
- Promoting opportunity to communities and organisations involved in the programme and further afield in collaboration with the Marketing Officer
- Processing and reviewing applications from groups seeking to be recognised as IG Hubs and undertaking visitations where necessary

4. Providing administrative and logistical support to the partnership and advisory group

This will include activities such as:

- Contributing to the organisation and facilitation of key events, meetings & training
- Undertaking project evaluations and collating evidence

- Assisting with the writing of reports and feeding back to CEO, funders, and partners
- Creating case studies for use on websites, social media, and reports
